SIENNÁ // What Matters

March 25, 2019

If you are looking for a perfect soundtrack to your Monday (or any day of the week for that matter)... This is it. SIENNÁ with the track "What Matters".

This is a soothing, powerful and amazing tune with the ability to make you listen. I mean really listen. The vocals are captivating and slides trough the song like a cool bris on a hot summer night.

The instrumentation is minimalistic but at the same time as powerful and haunting like a full orchestra. The stereo effects throughout the songs works great on normal speakers, but with a great headset... well... it's pure magic. I was blown away and SIENNÁ took me on her journey, a trip I don't want to end.

Trust me, this is the song you need... You might just not know it yet.
