

SIENNÁ – Norwegian/Japanese Electro-Jazz Phenomenon Returns To Second Home

The UK is fast becoming a second home to Sienná. Impressive really, given she already has a couple – her original Japan and current residency Norway.

This is due to the embracing welcome of UK audiences on several previous tours; raptured by the bands fusion of styles to create a tapestry of sound, fans are eager to see them return to this green and pleasant land - and to witness again the spectacle of Sienná's performance herself. The bands fascination with UK doesn't stop with the shows – they love The Beatles' and The Cavern Club, British Ale, and have a strange fascination with Boots pharmacies. This country is their favourite, their 'No.1 Heaven'.

Dubbed 'The future sound of London' these out - there visionaries create ambient and warm sonic contrasts, mixing Electronica, House, Jazz and Trad Japanese to become truly unique. It's the definition of audio-phenomena, audio-sex to the weird and wonderful.

The release 'Japonesque' this year was a milestone for the scene. Previous collaborations include psychedelic legend Nils Petter Molvaer as well as the late British legend Mick Karn, just to name a few...
